

Dear Human Resources and Employee Benefits,

The pandemic has driven an explosion in demand for a diverse suite of discount products and services. Throughout this unprecedented time, Careington's quality products have been a reliable source for ongoing health and stability in uncertain times, either in an employer-paid model or as voluntary options. Whether you've already gone through open enrollment, are currently in open enrollment or already offer benefits, Careington's products and services can complement your current benefits package. We handle all the administration, billing and fulfillment, and these plans can be utilized and added all year long. Careington also has the ability to develop a custom URL landing page, making for a seamless enrollment process.

Careington provides access to nationwide dental networks that offer discounts on a number of products and procedures, such as exams, X-rays, cleanings, extractions and more.

In addition to deep savings at quality dental providers, employees can also consult with state-licensed counselors, physicians and even dentists for their physical and mental wellness. Counselors can help with addiction, depression, anxiety and many other issues, while physicians and dentists can assist with non-emergency medical and dental issues such as colds, the flu, chipped teeth, sores, bleeding gums and much more, providing a well-rounded avenue of care.

At Careington, our best-in-class products, exceptional client management and superior customer service are the hallmarks of our capabilities. Our coveted networks, scalable capabilities and contemporary, money-saving products make us a simple and smart solution.

We sincerely welcome the opportunity to work with Whataburger to deliver first-class service and a valuable, easy-to-use experience that includes utilizing our products and services.

Thank you for your time, and I look forward to serving you.

Sincerely,

Danielle Biondo
